PREFACE.

The last edition of this work, which was published in 1862, having been for some time out of print, a new and more complete edition has been called for. The profession has since that period much increased in numerical strength, and many changes have taken place which have necessitated a new LAW LIST. The compiler has not attempted to improve upon the arrangement of the work. Its division has in general been much the same as in the last edition, but he has spent much time and labour in rendering it as correct and as complete as work of the kind should be. In this particular he trusts that the profession will find no cause of complaint. And he returns his best thanks to the gentlemen of the various offices for the administration of justice in Upper Canada who have supplied him with the information required for the compilation of this—the Fifth Edition of the UPPER CANADA LAW LIST.

INTRODUCTORY OBSERVATIONS.

Since the publication of the last edition of the Upper Canada Law List, in 1862, the laws of Upper Canada as affecting Real Property, Commerce, Equity Jurisdiction, and Common Law Procedure, have undergone extensive alterations. Nor have reforms in the practice of the Courts been lost sight of. Our Court of Chancery had acquired a bad name throughout the country, by reason of its alleged delays and expense; the public cry was raised against it, and it was stated that no sane man would think of adding to its jurisdiction. The Court is now a popular tribunal. The grievous delays of which suitors—and not without some shew of reason—formerly complained, no longer exist; the reforms which have been made in its procedure have worked well; the judicature and the profession have co-operated cordially and zealously to promote their efficiency and secure their success; and the returns shew that, so far from the business of the Court becoming stationary or diminishing, that the business transacted largely increases every year—and were these returns published, they would exhibit an amount of business done which could not fail to excite public attention. How has it been done, and so performed that the public hears no complaints of injustice done, or justice denied, or of heart-rending delays, or ruinous expense? The inference is irresistible—that the Court is now well administered. The cases which come before this Court for the most part involve the decision of important questions of law and fact. If the question be one of law, it is argued; and if of fact, the evidence is taken by the Court at the town most convenient for the attendance of witnesses, is properly sifted, and, by the efficiency of our judges, a prompt decision is given; so that discontent and dissatisfaction on the part of suitors is now rarely heard. The machinery for the conduct of a suit in Chancery can be so worked that the issue may be arrived at as quickly as in a suit at law. Some years since, the important question was freely adverted to by legislators, and by the public generally, of blending our Courts of Common Law and Chancery into one court of universal jurisdiction in civil cases, or, as generally understood, the fusion of law and equity. But for the reasons already stated and the popularity which the Court of Chancery has acquired, no such desire for this fusion is now evinced, and the question ceases to be of interest to the general public; and it is only mooted as a necessity, which will some day arrive, by those who consider declarations, pleas, replications, rejoinders, surrejoinders, rebutters and surrebutters, a more simple form of pleading than a bill, an answer and a replication. The failure of justice so often referred to by the fusion advocates as arising from restricted jurisdiction and imperfect procedure, now rarely occurs, and the occasion is isolated of a plaintiff in equity having his bill dismissed because his remedy is at law.

The practice of trying causes as at nisi prius, on circuits, has done much to popularize the Court of Chancery, to conduce to its efficiency, and to reduce expenses. The examination of witnesses being had, the hearing of the cause immediately follows. The judge who hears the cause has taken the evidence, he has seen the witnesses and observed their demeanour. The practice as it is, is as Lord St. Leonards said, "a drama performed before the judge." The practice as it was, "was simply reading, and perhaps very badly reading the play afterwards, without anything to give it life and energy."

The Court of Chancery as it is, with its modern reforms of procedure, promulgated by well and maturely considered orders—the efficient and laborious bench which controls the Court—the bold course taken by its head to excise decrepid procedure—under all this the Court appears to have revived, and the rumours of extinction which appeared to threaten its prolonged existence have gradually disappeared—the legislature has increased the efficiency of its jurisdiction—our senators are not now afraid to discuss the Court of Chancery in their council chamber, and hence, by 28 Vic. ch. 17 (1865), it is enacted—

1. The Court of Chancery in Upper Canada shall have the same jurisdiction as the Court of Chancery in England has in regard to leases and sales of settled estates, and in regard to enabling minors, with the approbation of the Court, to make binding settlements of their real and personal estate on marriage, and in regard to questions submitted for the opinion of the Court in the form of special cases on the part of such persons as may by themselves, their committees or guardians, or otherwise, concur therein.

2. The Court shall have the same equitable jurisdiction in matters of revenue as the Court of Exchequer in England possesses.

3. In all cases in which the Court has jurisdiction to entertain an application for an injunction against a breach of any covenant, contract or agreement, or against the commission or continuance of any wrongful act, or for the specific performance of any covenant, contract or agreement, the Court, if it thinks fit, may award damages to the party injured, either in addition to or in substitution for such injunction of specific performance, and such damages may be ascertained in such manner as the Court may direct, or the Court may grant such other relief as it may deem just.

4. An order or decree for Alimony may be registered in any Registry Office in Upper Canada, and such registration shall, so long as the order or decree registered remains in force, bind the estate and interest of every description which the defendant has in any lands in the county or counties where such registration is made, and operate thereon for the amount or amounts by such order or decree ordered to be paid, in the same manner and with the same effect as the registration of a charge of a life annuity created by the defendant on his lands would, and such registration may be effected through a certificate by the Registrar of the Court of such order or decree.

5. Where a commission of lunacy would have been heretofore necessary or proper, the Court in lieu thereof may, with or without the aid of a jury (which the court or a judge thereof may cause to be empannelled as in such cases), hear evidence and enquire into and determine upon the alleged lunacy; provided that the alleged lunatic shall have a right in such cases to demand that the enquiry be submitted to a jury, or the court may order that the enquiry be had before any court of record; and every such enquiry, whether under a commission of lunacy or before any such court of record, shall be confined to the question whether or not the person who is the subject of the enquiry is at the time of such enquiry of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself or his affairs, and the verdict rendered by a jury shall in every case be returned unto the court, certified by the judge before whom the enquiry has been had, and shall be final as to the question on such enquiry, unless the same be set aside.

6. Where any such enquiry is had by the court, with or without the aid of a jury, or before a court of record, no traverse shall be allowed, but the court, if dissatisfied with the finding of a jury, may at the instance of any party who would be entitled to traverse an inquisition under commission of lunacy, direct a new trial or new trials, from time to time, upon application therefor made to the court within three months from the time the verdict is rendered, or such further time as the court under special circumstances may permit, and subject to such directions and upon such conditions as to the court may seem proper, and the court may order any such new trial to be had before the same court in which the verdict was rendered, or before any other court.

7. On every such enquiry, the alleged lunatic, if he be within the jurisdiction of the court, shall be produced, and shall be examined at such times and in such manner, either in open court or privately, before the jury shall retire to consult about their verdict, as the presiding judge may direct, unless the court ordering such enquiry shall beforehand by order have dispensed with such examination.

8. Any order by a single judge in a matter of lunacy shall be subject to rehearing before the full court, and any order of the full court shall be subject to an appeal to the Court of Error and Appeal respectively, within the same times and under the same conditions as in other cases in the said Court

9. The court may order the costs, charges and expenses of and incidental to the presentation of any petition for a commission of lunacy, or any inquiry, inquisition, issue, traverse, or other proceeding in lunacy, to be paid either by the party or parties presenting such petition, or prosecuting the same, or such enquiry or other proceeding in lunacy, or by the party or parties opposing the same, or out of the estate of the alleged lunatic, or partly in one way and partly in another.

10. The seventy-third section of the said Act is amended by inserting therein, immediately after the words "sui juris," the words "or non compos mentis."

11. The court shall have the same powers of regulating the practice in matters of lunacy, and in all matters under this Act, as in other cases within the jurisdiction of the court.

12. Where a defendant or respondent in any suit or matter is absent from the Province, or cannot be found therein, to be served, the court may authorize proceedings to be taken against him, according to the practice of the court in case of a defendant whose residence is unknown, or in any other manner that may be provided or ordered, if the court shall under the circumstances of the case deem such mode of proceeding conducive to the ends of justice.

Another act may be referred to, 26 Vic. ch. 41 (1863), "An act respecting affidavits, declarations, and affirmations made out of Canada for use therein," containing most useful provisions for accelerating the proceedings of the court in reference to evidence, &c., taken by affidavit in England.

Burke said, "In reality there are two and only two foundations of law, and they are both of them conditions without which nothing can give it any force—I mean Equity and Utility. With respect to the former, it grows out of the great rule of equality, which is grounded on our common nature, and which Philo, with propriety and beauty, calls the 'mother of justice.' All human laws are, properly speaking, only declaratory; they may alter the mode of application, but they have no power over the substance of original justice.

The other foundation of law, which is Utility, must be understood not of partial or limited, but of general and public utility, connected in the same manner with and derived directly from our rational nature." This is not merely speculative; it is the wise exposition of one who has taught us that "nothing is desirable that is not practicable." It is a general sketch of the law as it ought to be; and referring to our Court of Equity as it is, those of the profession who have learnt to practice in it, will agree that it is a Court of Equity and Utility; and history shows that men who have learnt equity as well as law, have been the greatest and best administrators of justice: they have learnt to regard equity as neither arbitrary nor artificial, but as springing out of the great moral ideas of veracity and justice, which stir at the root of our humanity—have been expanded in our national life—developed and applied by master spirits with judicial wisdom to the requirements of society, — "the collected reason of ages, combining the principles of original justice with the infinite variety of human concerns."

Remove the Court of Chancery!! Because the Courts of Law and Equity claim to be rather antagonistic than ancillary to each other! History again tells us that the Court of Chancery existed because the Courts of Law had limited their proper jurisdiction by a narrow and technical procedure, which was inadequate to afford the judicial remedies that were required by the growing exigencies of society. By amendments of the law of procedure in the Common Law Courts during the past ten or fifteen years, law courts have been in some degree enabled to deal with equitable questions. Remove the Court of Chancery! In one view this may be regarded as a question of procedure and the convenient division of judicial labour; in another, it involves the higher question of destroying the harmony of a system of jurisprudence which has secured the well being of nations, and maintained in its integrity the great system of universal justice.

In endeavouring to give a concise yet intelligible outline of the various alterations and modifications which have been effected by legislation since 1862, the editor deems it necessary to call attention to the principal features of the following Acts.

1. As to Real Property.

- (a) An Act respecting sales of land under execution against executors and administrators. 27 Vic. ch. 15 (1863).
- (b) An Act to amend the law of property and trusts in Upper Canada. 29 Vic. ch. 28 (1865).
- (c) An Act respecting Registrars, Registry Offices, and the registration of instruments relating to lands in Upper Canada. 29 Vic. ch. 24 (1865).

2. As to Commerce.

- (d) An Act to amend the laws of Upper Canada affecting trade and commerce. 26 Vic. ch. 45 (1863).
- (e) An Act to impose duties on promissory notes and bills of exchange. 27 & 28 Vic. ch. 4 (1864).
- (f) An Act respecting insolvency. 27 & 28 Vic. ch. 17 (1864).
- (g) An Act to extend the Act to impose duties on promissory notes and bills of exchange to all notes and bills of whatever amount, and otherwise to amend the said Act. 29 Vic. ch. 4 (1865).
- (h) An Act to amend the Insolvent Act of 1864. 29 Vic. ch. 18 (1865).

- (a) The courts in Upper Canada had held that, under the Imperial Act of 5 Geo. II. ch. 7, sec. 4, the title of a testator or intestate in real estate in Upper Canada might be seized and sold under a judgment and execution by a creditor of the testator or intestate recovered against an executor or administrator of the deceased, in the same manner and under the same process that the same could be seized and sold if the said judgment and execution had been against the testator or intestate if living, and many sales had taken place and titles been acquired under such proceedings, and it being desirable to quiet the same, it was enacted—

1. Under the said Imperial Statute, the title and interest of a testator or intestate in real estate in Upper Canada might be and hereafter may be seized and sold under a judgment and execution recovered by a creditor of the testator or intestate against his executor or administrator, in the same manner and under the same process that the same could be sold under a judgment and execution against the deceased if living.

2. All such sales heretofore made and titles given thereunder are hereby declared to have passed and conveyed the title or interest of the testator or intestate in his real estate so sold and conveyed as against any objection that may be made on the ground that real estate could not be seized and sold in the manner aforesaid, under the said Act: Provided always, that this Act shall not affect any case pending at the time of the passing of this Act, in or theretofore finally adjudged by the Courts of Law or Equity in Upper Canada.

(b) Perhaps the most important enactment of the session of 1865 is the act to amend the law of property and trusts in Upper Canada, and among its most useful provisions it provides that trustees, executors, &c., may apply by petition to the Court of Chancery, for opinion, advice, &c., as to the management of trust property, adopting the provisions of the Imperial Acts 22 & 23 Vic. ch. 35.

(c) The Registry Act of 1865. This act has been very ably annotated by S. G. Wood, Esq., LL.B., Barrister-at-law. As Mr. Wood states in the preface to his work, "The introduction of a new act of parliament relating to the registration of deeds, providing as it does for important changes in that branch of the law of real property, seems to make an attempt to elucidate by reference to decided cases the provisions of a statute which will materially affect the property and rights of a large and continually increasing body in the community, and the operation of which will of course be a matter of interest and importance to the legal profession." And so it is; his remarks and annotations upon the new act are well digested and carefully

-) This enactment is of much interest to the profession, as working an important change in the law affecting trade and commerce. It is considered of such importance, that the text is given as follows :

1. No special promise, to be made by any person, after the passing of this Act, to answer for the debt, default or miscarriage of another person, being in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith, or some other person by him hereunto lawfully authorized, shall be deemed invalid, to support an action, suit or other proceeding, to charge the person by whom such promise has been made, by reason only that the consideration for such promise does not appear in writing or by necessary inference from a written document.

2. Every person who, being surety for the debt or duty of another, or being liable with another for any debt or duty, shall pay such debt or perform such duty, shall be entitled to have assigned to him, or a trustee for him, every judgment, specialty or other security which shall be held by the creditor in respect of such debt or duty, whether such judgment, specialty or other security shall or shall not be deemed at law to have been satisfied by the payment of the debt or the performance of the duty.

3. And such person shall be entitled to stand in the place of the creditor, and to use all the remedies, and, if need be, and on proper indemnity, to use the name of the creditor in any action or other proceeding at law or in equity, in order to obtain from the principal debtor, or any co-surety, co-contractor or co-debtor (as the case may be), indemnification for the advances made and loss sustained by the person who has so paid such debt or performed such duty ; and such payment or performance so made by such surety shall not be pleadable in bar of any such action or other proceeding by him.

4. No co-surety, co-contractor or co-debtor shall be entitled to recover from any other co-surety, co-contractor or co-debtor, by the means aforesaid, more than the just proportion to which, as between those parties themselves, such last mentioned person shall be justly liable.

5. All actions of account, or for not accounting, and suits for such accounts as concern the trade of merchandize between merchant and merchant, their factors and servants, shall be commenced and sued within six years after the cause of such actions or suits, or, when such cause has already arisen, then within six years after the passing of this Act; and no claim in respect of a matter which arose more than six years before the commencement of such action or suit, shall be enforceable by action or suit by reason only of some other matter of claim comprised in the same account, having arisen within six years next before the commencement of such action or suit.

6. Where any cause of action or suit, with respect to which the period of limitation is fixed by the Imperial Act of the twenty-first year of the reign of King James the First, chapter sixteen, section three, or by any Act now in force in Upper Canada, or any of them, lies against two or more joint debtors, the person or persons who shall be entitled to the same shall not be entitled to any time within which to commence and sue any such action or suit against any one or more of such joint debtors, who shall not be without Upper Canada at the time such cause of action or suit accrued, by reason only that some other one or more of such joint debtors was or were, at the time such cause of action accrued, without Upper Canada.

7. And such person or persons, so entitled as aforesaid, shall not be barred from commencing and suing any action or suit against the joint debtor or joint debtors, or who was or were without Upper Canada at the time the cause of action or suit accrued after his or her return to Upper Canada, by reason only that judgment was already recovered against any one or more of such joint debtors, who was not or were not without Upper Canada at the time aforesaid.

8. In reference to the provisions of the Consolidated Statutes for Upper Canada, chapter forty-four, an acknowledgment or promise made or contained by or in a writing signed by the agent of the party chargeable, thereby duly authorized to make such acknowledgment or promise, shall have the same effect as if such writing had been signed by the party himself.

9. This Act shall apply to Upper Canada only.

(e) (g) These acts imposing duties on promissory notes and bills of exchange need only be referred to as introducing a new era in our system of taxation. The imposition of stamps is important to the lawyer in so far as grave questions may frequently arise as to compliance with the strict requirements of the acts; and the general public is interested therein from the circumstance that the imposition of stamps has inaugurated a system of taxation, by the increase of which, for the purposes of revenue on the one hand, and the consequential proportionate remodelling and diminution of our tariff of customs duties on the other, will do much to materially increase our commercial prosperity. It is a step in the right direction. For without a doubt it is an opinion which in these times has passed into the condition of an accepted rule, that international commerce ought to be encouraged, because it augments the wealth and prosperity not of one only of the two contracting parties, but of both equally, as well of the party who buys as of the one who sells. This opinion has acquired much force from practical development and practical experience; and the progress of free trade, in proportion as it has established itself, has tended to draw countries more closely together, since it has shewn them in the most visible and tangible manner that they are mutually necessary to each other, that every one of the inhabitants of each contributes to the happiness and prosperity of his neighbour, and receives from his neighbour part of his own prosperity and his own happiness.

order that commerce may be really free, it is not sufficient that the tariffs of customs duties should be remodelled in a liberal spirit. To substitute a liberal tariff for a restrictive one is, without doubt, a progress; but to render our commerce available thoroughly to augment our wealth and prosperity—to develop our resources—to stimulate our relations in commerce with our neighbours, a complete removal of our customs duties appears to be the great means to accomplish this most desirable handy work. To open our ports, to offer no barrier by customs duties to a free and open trading with all who desire to trade with us, offers at this epoch of our commercial career considerations which should at once occupy the minds and tax the energies of our legislators. The maintenance and increase of our prosperity depends not so much on arrangements for reciprocity, but on the extension of our commercial relations—on the development of our import and export trade. To us it may be of no great importance whether it is a great empire or a free republic we have to deal with ; but it does greatly concern us to know whether our merchants can carry on their enterprises without bar or hindrance, and freely exchange our commodities for those, the products of other lands. The more general imposition of stamps, and particularly on the following—

1. Agreements under hand only.
2. Attorney's clerks, articles of.
3. Bills of lading.
4. Agreements under seal, Bonds, Mortgages, Conveyances, Leases, Letter or power of attorney, Release and Instrument under seal.
5. Charter party.
6. Cheques.
7. Policies, fire.
8. Protests of any Bill of Exchange, Promissory Note and Protest of any other kind, and other Notarial Act whatsoever.
9. Receipts.
10. Telegraph messages.
11. Transfer of shares or stock.

would work well to create a revenue for our Province, and thereby admit of a liberal policy as regards our customs duties.

(f) (h) The Insolvency Acts. These acts have been made the subject of a very clever treatise, from the pen of James D. Edgar, Esq., Barrister-at-law. His comments and annotations on the acts will be found most useful to the prac-

It cannot be said that our statute law as it is is an inconsistent heap of enactments which have been huddled together
—some obsolete—others effete—some which never have effected their professed purpose—new laws thrust in to meet some social emergency, without regard to those already in force.
Our statute law has been ably codified; and let us hope that the laws yet to be made to meet the exigencies of our society will not be impolitic in their conception, nor defective in their structure; that they will be enacted with every regard to our system as it is, and maintain in their integrity our system of laws, continuing them as they are, an example to our neighbours, and a classified and consolidated model of jurisprudence worthy of our parents in the old world.

Chancery—Thomas Black.

One of the Common Law Judges holds a Court during each term, called the "Practice Court," for hearing matters relating to the adding or justifying bail, discharging insolvent debtors, administering oaths, hearing and determining matters on motion, and making rules and orders in causes and business depending in either of said law courts. Chambers are held each day in Common Law and Chancery by one of the Judges of the said Courts, for such business relating to suits therein as may be transacted by a single Judge out of Court.

Sittings at Toronto, the first Monday of January and July in each year, continuing till Saturday of the following week.

County Courts.

These Courts are Courts of Record, and are presided over by resident Judges in each county, being barristers of at least five years standing. Their jurisdiction extends to all personal actions where the debt or damages claimed do not exceed £50; and to all suits relating to debt, covenant or contract, where the amount is ascertained by the acts of the parties or signature of the defendant to £100; and in cases of torts to personal chattels to £80, and to all bail bonds and recognizances of bail given in the County Court to any amount, with trial by jury; but not to cases involving the title to lands (except actions of ejectment in certain cases, as after mentioned), validity of wills or settlements, or actions for libel, slander, crim. con. or seduction. An appeal lies to either of the superior courts of Queen's Bench or Common Pleas. The County Courts also possess equity jurisdiction to the amount of £50, under 16 Vic. cap. 119, subject to an appeal to the Court of Chancery, and jurisdiction in ejectment for the recovery of lands, where the yearly value does not exceed $200, in the following cases, viz., (1). Where the term and interest of the tenant shall have expired or been determined by a legal notice to quit, and (2) Where the rent shall be 60 days in arrear and the landlord shall have right by law to re-enter for non-payment thereof; registration of bills of sale and chattel mortgages, under 20 Vic. cap. 8; also the registration of limited partnerships, under 12 Vic. cap. 75.

Surrogate Courts.

Surrogate Clerk—Sir James Lukin Robinson, Bart.

These Courts, since September, 1858, have been regulated by the Act 22 Vic. cap. 93. The Court of Probate for Upper Canada is abolished, and its powers (with some exceptions) exercised by the Surrogate Courts, of which there is one in each county, holding its sittings in the county town. The jurisdiction of these courts relates to all testamentary matters and causes, and to the granting or revoking of probates of wills and letters of administration of the effects of deceased persons having estate or effects in Upper Canada, and all matters arising out of or connected with the grant or revocation of probate or administration, subject to an appeal to the Court of Chancery.

There are four terms, commencing on the first Monday in the months of January, April, July and October, and ending on the Saturday of the same week. The Judge of the County Court is ex-officio the Judge of the Surrogate Court.

Courts of Quarter Sessions.

The County Judge in each county is the chairman of the Court of Quarter Sessions, and, with one or more justices of the peace, holds a court in his county four times a year for trials by jury in cases of felony and misdemeanor, and for the decision of appeals from summary convictions; but treason and capital felonies are exempted from their jurisdiction. The Court has also the supervision of some of the accounts in the county, relating to the administration of justice, &c.

Sittings—second Tuesday in March, June, September, and December, in each year, with power of adjournment.

Recorders' Courts.

In the cities of Toronto, Hamilton, London, Kingston, and Ottawa, the Recorder's Court takes the place of the County Sessions, the justices for counties having no jurisdiction in the cities, the care of which is confided to the Recorder, Mayor, Aldermen, and Police Magistrate of each. The City Sessions are held four times a year, on the first Monday in March, June, and September, and third Monday in December.

Insolvent Debtors' Courts.

By the Insolvent Act of 1864, (27 & 28 Vic., cap. 57) provision is made for the settlement of the estates of insolvent debtors for giving effect to arrangements between them and their creditors, and for the punishment of fraud. In Lower Canada, this enactment applies to traders only; in Upper Canada to all persons, whether traders or non-traders. In these Courts the County Judge in each County presides, the only appointments made in pursuance of this statute being those of Official Assignees, who are to be nominated by the Board of Trade at any place, or the Council thereof within the county or district in which such Board of Trade exists, or in any county or district adjacent thereto in which there is no Board of Trade.

THE LAW SOCIETY OF UPPER CANADA.

The Law Society of Upper Canada was first established in 1797 by the Act 37 George III. cap. 13, which enabled the then Practitioners of the Law to form themselves into a Society, and make Rules for its government, under the inspection of the Judges, as Visitors. The Act of 1822 (2 George IV. cap. 5,) incorporated the "Treasurer and Benchers of the Law Society," giving a perpetual succession, and a common seal, in the usual manner of Acts of Incorporation.

Under these statutes, the Society is governed by the Board of Benchers, in the same manner as the various Law Societies in London, England. The Benchers sit in convocation every Term, for the admission of Students and Barristers, and the examination of fitness and capacity of Attornies, and for other general business. The examination for Students at Law, which is a Scholastic examination, is conducted in the presence of the Benchers; and the examination of Barristers, at the end of the term of five years after admission, and of Attorneys after the service of five years as Law Clerk, is conducted by the Benchers in convocation. These last two examinations are in the various branches of legal learning. Each Student at Law, on admission, is a member of the Society, and entitled to the use of the Library. The Revenue of the Society consists of the fees paid by Students-at-Law, and Barristers, and Attornies, on their admission; the fees of Attorneys and Solicitors for certificates; and the fees called Term Fees, charged to practising Barristers. The Library of the Society is of considerable value, and is of great service to the Students and Practitioners. The Treasurer is elected annually, in Michaelmas Term, and enters upon his duties on the first day of the following term.

off the Roll of Attorneys or Solicitors of such Court, and whereby it is also further ordered that such order shall be transmitted by the proper officer of such Court to the Treasurer of this Society, such person so ordered to be struck off the Rolls of such Court shall, ipso facto, be suspended from the exercise of all and singular the rights, powers, and privileges belonging to him in this Society, or elsewhere, as a member thereof; and such suspension shall continue until such person be restored to the Rolls of such Court as an Attorney or Solicitor thereof, and also to the Rolls of such other of the said courts as may, on communication of such order or otherwise, have ordered him to be struck off their Rolls respectively.

Such suspension shall in no respect be deemed an affirmation on the part of this Society, or any of the authorities thereof, of the correctness of the grounds upon which the decision of such Court or Courts is founded, but as a mere legal consequence attached to such decision.

Such suspension shall not preclude the adoption of proceedings by impeachment or otherwise, according to the course of this Society, before the Benchers thereof in Convocation, for disbarring and expelling such person from this Society, on the same grounds upon which any such Court may have proceeded to remove him from their Rolls, or any other that may render such proceedings necessary or proper in that behalf.

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of this Society on receipt of any such order from the proper officer of any of the said Courts, to lay the same before the Benchers of this Society in Convocation at their next meeting; and the same shall be thereupon entered at length upon the Journals of Convocation, but no entry of such suspension shall be entered upon the Rolls of this Society.

Upon the Treasurer of this Society being informed of orders having been made by the said Courts, or by the Courts which removed any such person from their Rolls as aforesaid, for the restoration of such person to such Rolls, it shall be his duty to procure office copies of such orders so restoring such person to the Rolls of such Courts, and to lay the same before the Benchers of this Society in Convocation at their next meeting; and the same shall thereupon be entered at length upon the Journals of Convocation.

Ordered, That all monies paid to the Law Society, shall be received by the Sub-Treasurer until 2 p.m. on every day except Saturday, and on that day until 12 noon.

RULES AND ORDERS OF THE LAW SOCIETY

RELATING TO

THE "LAW SCHOOL OF OSGOODE HALL."

By the Benchers of the Law Society of Upper Canada in Convocation, with the approbation of the Judges of the Superior Courts, as Visitors of the said Society.

IT IS ORDAINED, AS FOLLOWS:

1. That there be established a School of Law, to have its seat at Osgoode Hall, and to be designated the "Law School of Osgoode Hall."

2. That the tuition of the pupils attending such Law School be by means of lectures, readings, and mootings, and otherwise, as may from time to time be prescribed by rules and regulations for the conduct of the said school, to be framed by a Standing Committee of the Society on Legal Education.

3. That the tuition of the pupils of the said school be conducted by three readers, to be designated respectively, "The Reader on Common Law," "The Reader on Equity," and "The Reader on Real Property."

4. That the said Readers be selected from the members of this Society of the Degree of Barrister-at-Law, and that they be elected annually on the first Saturday in Michaelmas Term in each year.

5. That to each of such Readers there be paid out of the general funds of the Society a yearly salary of £150; such salary to be paid in quarterly payments, in accordance with the rules of the Society regulating the payment of the salary of the present Lecturers and Examiners.

6. That the first election of Readers shall take place forthwith, upon the approval of this rule by the Visitors.

7. That immediately upon this rule going into effect, and hereafter on the first Saturday in Michaelmas Term in each year, there shall be appointed a Standing Committee of Convocation, to consist of five members and the Treasurer for the time being, and to be styled "the Committee on Legal Education;" which Committee shall be charged with the superintendence of the said Law School, and of all examinations of the Society in Law except examination in open Convocation, and the said Committee shall report to Convocation in each term.

8. That the existing rules of this Society as to the keeping of terms and compulsory attendance on lectures during term by Students-at-Law do remain in force, with this addition, that there be two lectures on each day during term, instead of one, as heretofore; the hours of such lectures and the division of the lectures in term amongst the four Readers to be determined by rules from time to time to be made by the Committee on Legal Education, but the lectures during term to be nevertheless considered as delivered in the Law School, and as forming part of the course of instruction in law afforded therein.

9. First, That in addition to the lectures in term there be established a course of lectures to be delivered during the Educational Term of the Law School, which Educational Term shall commence on the first Monday in November, and end on the first Monday in May; and in each week during the Educational Term there shall be three lectures, which shall be delivered at such hour as shall be determined by the Committee on Legal Education. Second, That at the conclusion of each Educational Term on certain days, to be fixed by the Committee on Legal Education, there shall be an examination of the Students attending the Law School, and such of the Students as shall come up to a standard, to be decided upon by the Benchers in Convocation from time to time, shall be allowed two terms out of the four required to be kept before Call to the Bar, upon the certificate of the Treasurer of the Society. Third, That the Committee on Legal Education shall have authority to give Prizes in Books to such of the Students as upon the examination at the termination of each Educational Term they shall adjudge worthy.

10. That in addition to lectures, the Readers during such educational terms shall hold readings, shall preside at meetings, and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the rules and regulations to be framed by the Committee on Legal Education.

11. That attendance on the lectures in the Law School during the educational terms shall be voluntary.

12. That all written examinations in law shall be conducted in the Law School, in the presence of at least two of the Readers and one Benchers who is a member of the Committee on Legal Education.

13. That there shall be four Scholarships in the Law Society.

One for Students under one year's standing of £80 per annum.

One for Students under two years' standing and over one year's of £40 per annum.

One for Students under three years' standing and over two years' of £50 per annum.

One for Students under four years' standing and over three years' of £60 per annum.

Any Student who has taken any degree entitling him to Call in three years, shall be considered as a Student of over two years in reference to these Scholarships. These Scholarships shall be open to all Students in Upper Canada on the books of the Law Society of the prescribed standing, whether Students in the Law School or not.

14. That the annual allowance to such Scholars shall be paid to them out of the general funds of the Society quarterly, on the first Monday after each term.

15. That the examinations for Scholarships be conducted by the same persons and in the same manner as other examinations in law, and in such books and on such subjects as the Committee on Legal Education may determine, subject however to the disallowance or revision by Convocation of any rules which such committee may make.

16. That the successful candidates for such Scholarships be determined by Convocation, and the Scholarships be awarded in a formal manner by the Treasurer in open Convocation.

17. That the Readers to be appointed under this rule shall be in the place of the Examiners for Call and Lecturers appointed under the present general rules of the Society, and such rules are hereby declared applicable to the said Readers, who shall perform the duties heretofore performed by the Examiners, receiving only the salaries affixed to the office of Reader by this rule.

18. That in awarding Prizes to Students at the Annual Examinations at the expiration of the Educational Term, a separate estimate shall be made of the answers of Students not being two years on the Books of the Society, and of those being over two years, and that the Prizes to be given by the Society shall be apportioned in such manner as to the Benchers in Convocation shall seem fit between the two classes of Students, those under two years being taken as one class, and those over two years as the other class, so that the Prizes may be awarded between those respective classes equally, or as nearly so as having regard to the answering in the said respective classes shall to the Benchers seem fit.

19. That all Students who have been or who shall hereafter be admitted upon the Books of the Society in Easter and Trinity Terms in each year may present themselves for the Examination for Scholarships as follows, that is to say: For the Scholarship for first year Students, in the Michaelmas Term of their second year; for the Scholarship for second year Students, in the Michaelmas Term of their third year; and for the Scholarships for third and fourth year Students, one or both, in the Michaelmas Term of their fourth year; provided always, that nothing herein contained shall authorise or permit any Student to present himself a second time for examination for the same Scholarship.

EXTRACTS FROM THE

"ACT TO AMEND THE ACT RESPECTING ATTORNEYS," 28 VIC., CAP. 21.

The following persons may be admitted and enrolled as Attorneys or Solicitors, viz. : Any person who has been duly called to practice at the Bar of Upper Canada, or who has been duly called to practice at the Bar of any of Her Majesty's Superior Courts, not having merely local jurisdiction in England, Scotland or Ireland, and has been bound, by contract in writing, to a practising Attorney or Solicitor in Upper Canada, to serve him as his Clerk for three years.

No person shall be admitted and enrolled as an Attorney or Solicitor, unless

1. He has during the term specified in his contract of service duly served thereunder, and has during the whole of such term been actually employed in the proper practice or business of an Attorney or Solicitor by the Attorney or Solicitor to whom he has been bound, at the place where such Attorney or Solicitor has continued to reside during such term, or with his consent, by the Professional Agent of such Attorney or Solicitor in Toronto, for a part of the said term, not exceeding one year.

2. And has attended the sittings of the Court of Queen's Bench or Common Pleas during at least two of the Terms of such Courts, and has complied with the regulations of the Law Society in that behalf.

3. And at least fourteen days next before the first day of the Term in which he seeks admission, he has left with the Secretary of the Law Society his contract of service, and any assignment thereof and affidavits of the execution of the same respectively, and his own affidavit of due service thereunder, and a certificate of the Attorney or Solicitor to whom he was bound, or his agent, as aforesaid, of such due service, and a certificate of his having attended the sittings of the court or courts during two terms, as hereinbefore provided, and (in the case of a person who has been called to the Bar or taken a degree) a certificate of his having been so called to the Bar or taken such degree, or a duly authenticated certified copy of such certificate. (See 29 Vic. ch. 29.)

In case the contract of service, assignment (if any) affidavits and certificate of due service, or any of them, cannot be produced then, on application to be made to the Law Society, by a petition, verified by affidavit, to be left with the Secretary of the Society, at least fourteen days next before the first day of the term on which the applicant seeks admission, the Society, on being satisfied of such fact, may, in their discretion, dispense with the production of such contract, assignment, affidavits and certificate of due service, or any of them, and may, notwithstanding such non-production, grant the certificates, &c.

The Law Society may, upon being satisfied that the applicant for admission has really and bonâ fide served and been actually employed, under articles, for the term of five years, or shorter term, as the case may be, in their discretion and in accordance with rules to be established by them, with the approbation of the Visitors, grant the Certificates of Fitness, although the terms or conditions required have not been strictly complied with.

Whenever any person has been bound by contract in writing to serve as a Clerk to an Attorney or Solicitor, such contract, with the affidavit of execution thereof annexed thereto, shall, within three months next after the execution of the contract, be filed with one of the clerks of the Crown and Pleas at Toronto, who shall endorse and sign upon such contract and affidavit a memorandum of the day of filing thereof; and every assignment of such contract, together with an affidavit of the execution thereof annexed thereto, shall be filed in like manner within the like period of three months next after the execution thereof.

In case such contract or assignment (as the case may be), with the affidavit of execution annexed thereto, be not filed within three months after the date of the contract or assignment, the same may nevertheless be filed with either of the officers before mentioned, but the service of the clerk shall be reckoned only from the date of such filing, unless the Law Society in its discretion shall, for special reasons in any particular case, otherwise order."

If any Attorney or Solicitor, or any member of any firm of Attorneys or Solicitors, either in his own name or in the name of any member of his firm, practises in either of the Courts of Queen's Bench, Chancery, or Common Pleas, without such certificate being taken out by such Attorney and Solicitor, and by each member of his firm, he shall forfeit the sum of forty dollars, which forfeiture shall be paid to the Treasurer of the Law Society for the uses thereof, and may be recovered in either of the said Courts of Common Law.

THE LAW REPORTS.

IN THREE SERIES.

I. THE APPELLATE SERIES. II. THE COMMON LAW SERIES. III. THE EQUITY SERIES.

1. The Appellate Series.—This will comprise the decisions of the House of Lords and the Privy Council, not including Indian Appeals.

2. The Equity Series.—This will comprise the decisions of the Lord Chancellor and the Court of Appeal, in Chancery, Lunacy, and Bankruptcy, and also those of the Master of the Rolls, and the Vice-Chancellors.

3. The Common Law Series.—This will comprise the decisions of the Queen's Bench, Common Pleas, and Exchequer, including Writs of Error and Appeals to the Exchequer Chamber; also the decisions of the Courts of Probate, Divorce, and Matrimonial Causes; the Admiralty and Ecclesiastical; and the Court of Criminal Appeal.

The Reports will be so published as to insure, as far as practicable, that all decisions between Michaelmas Term of one year and Trinity Vacation of the following year shall be published not later than the 1st of December of that year. And as a general rule, that each decision shall be published as nearly as may be within a month of its date.

The Appellate Series will be paged and indexed so as to bind up in separate yearly volumes, for the English and Irish Appeals; the Scotch Appeals and Divorce Cases; and the Privy Council Cases.

The Equity Series will be paged and indexed so as to bind into one volume each year, for the Court of Appeal. The decisions of the Master of the Rolls and the three Vice-Chancellors (being Judges of co-ordinate authority) will be paged together, and separated into as many volumes in the year as may be found convenient, and each volume separately indexed. It is hoped they will not exceed two volumes a year.

The Common Law Series will be paged and indexed so as to bind into separate yearly volumes, for the Queen's Bench, Common Bench, and Exchequer respectively, one volume for the Courts of Probate, Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, and one for the Admiralty and Ecclesiastical Causes.

The Reports of the Court of Criminal Appeal will be paged and indexed separately, so as to bind up into a volume when of sufficient bulk.

The Council have made arrangements to publish in the Summer and Autumn Numbers of the Law Reports, copies of the STATUTES OF EACH SESSION. The Statutes will be furnished without any extra charge.

THE WEEKLY NOTES

Will consist of Short Notes of the decisions in the several Courts in each week, and will include points of practice. They are intended for information to the Profession as to the current decisions, and not for citation or authority.

The Prices of the Reports will be as follows:—

	SUBSCRIBERS.	NON-SUBS.

Common Law Series	16 00	20 00

THE
Solicitors' Journal & Reporter,

Established 1857. Published every Saturday, price 6d.

Contains a well-digested Summary of the Legal News of the Week; Articles on Topics affecting the interests of the Profession; Observations on Leading Decisions and Points of Practice in Equity and Common Law; Proceedings of Professional Societies; Business of the Courts, Gazettes, Statutes; Results of Sales of Estates; Reviews, &c.; also Legal Notes for the Week. These notes are designed to keep the profession au courant with the course of the Courts, especially with reference to cases not raising any points of law admitting of a report. The intention is, if possible, to give a short note of every case which finds its way into the printed lists in any Court of Law or Equity (except unopposed petitions and short causes), and which does not seem worthy of a report in the Weekly Reporter, so that by combining these notes with the Weekly Reporter the profession will have a complete record of all the proceedings in "contentious matters," more or less fully reported, according to the value of the cases, from a mere mention of a case which possesses no interest except for the parties concerned, up to the most complete and detailed report.
